

CALL FOR PAPER

1. General information

Camellia belongs to the genus of Tea. Especially within the group of yellow-flowered teas, Trà My is recognized as a native flower species of Japan, Korea, and China, originating from East Asia. Nearly 100 species have been identified so far, many of which may be rare, and new kinds are constantly sprouting for scientists and experts worldwide to study in so many different fields. The first International Conference on Indigenous Camellia was successfully held at Da Lat University in November 2022 and was attended by many scientists and experts globally. For the aim of exchanging research findings and fostering chances for collaboration between academics, research institutions, businesses, scientists, researchers, and experts in the preservation and advancement of indigenous Camellia products, Nghe An University of Economics; Da Lat University and Thu Dau Mot University; Maha Sharakham Rajabhat University, Thailand; Udon Thani Rajabhat University, Thailand will coorganize a program of the 2nd International Conference on Indigenous Camellia.

- Expected time: November 28th, 2023
- Location: Nghe An University of Economics. No. 51-Ly Tu Trong, Vinh City, Nghe An Province, Vietnam
- Host: Nghe An University of Economics.
- Co-organizers: Da Lat University; Thu Dau Mot University; Maha Sharakham Rajabhat University, Thailand; Udon Thani Rajabhat University, Thailand.

2. Main topics

- The diversity of indigenous Camellia.
- Status and conservation of indigenous Camellia.
- Research results on the application of indigenous Camellia.
- Developing products from Camellia species.

3. Publication

All accepted papers after peer-reviewed will be included fully-texted in ICIC 2023 Conference Proceedings with the ISBN.

---

---

THE 2nd INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON INDIGENOUS CAMELLIA - ICIC 2023

---

4. Article languages and format

- English and Vietnamese
- The article format will be in the form regulated form which is included and declared on the website: <https://hoithaokhoahoc.naue.edu.vn>.
- The maximum length is not more than 10 A4 pages (including the Appendix and the list of citations).
- The full-text article should be sent to email: hoithaokhoahoc@naue.edu.vn
- Further information should be sent to email hoithaokhoahoc@naue.edu.vn

5. Publication fee

The Publication fee will be free.

With the desire to develop an annual and prestigious academic exchange forum between domestic and foreign universities, Nghe An University of Economics and co-organizers look forward to receiving the participation of scientists, researchers, experts and businesses, both domestically and globally.

Wishing to create a yearly, esteemed forum for academic interaction between universities domestically and globally, Nghe An University of Economics and co-organizers would like to welcome the cooperation of institutions, businesses, researchers, and experts... from both home country and overseas.

Kind regards./

Chairman.

Dr. Nguyen Ngoc Hieu – The Rector of Nghe An University of Economics.

---